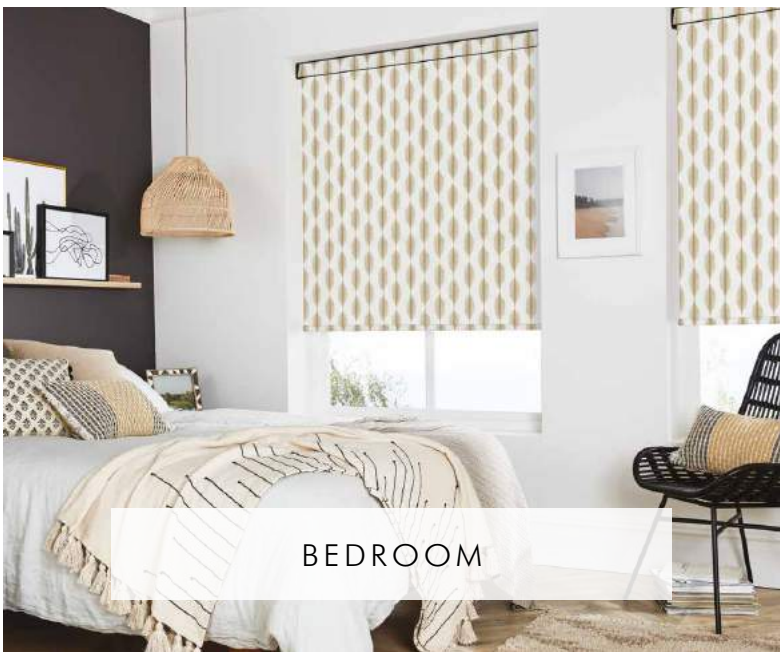
INTERIOR TRENDS



Our designers are tasked with putting together an international fabric collection so our inspiration comes from all over the world.

We research a number of sources and influences when looking at trends: trade shows for fashion, textile and interior design, blogs, social media platforms, looking at social and cultural factors so that we can gain a feel for the needs of different markets.

It's also essential to monitor the fashion runways, as the trends filter down from the catwalk to the world of interiors. This way we cover all bases and can create a collection that has something for everyone.
